

<G>You <F>were <C>smoking on a cigarette, talking about the deficit putting all them wild boys <G>down
A-like a drunken Mona Lisa or the Leanin' Tower of Pisa
You were hanging off the edge of <C>town
I overheard Afghanistan is safer than a minivan
Left me wonderin' what to <F>do
You're like a four leaf clover, I just <C>had to come on over
I have <G>never seen a woman like <C>you

<C>You was falling like the Alamo, drinking fast and talking slow
Looking like it's time to go <G>home (well?)
Were you hitting on a stripper cause you can't afford to tip her
Or just afraid of being <C>alone? (hey now)
You was openly frustrated, you said Dylan's overrated
For singing Tangled Up In <F>Blue
I don't know what I was thinking, I could <C>feel my heart a-sinking
I <G>never seen a fella like <C>you

Ain't that the <G>way we do it's true we fall for the <F>first <C>one <F><C> <G>How come it always ends up the <F>worst <G>one?

Well you're <C>probably a Democrat,
What the hell is wrong with that?
Nothing if you're <G>Taliban (oh, I see)
Well I bet you slept with half the south
Oh don't you ever shut yo mouth?
Yeah how much did you pay for that <C>tan? (More than you paid for yo boots)
Oh, shouldn't you be purging?
Well you're probably still a virgin
I can't believe you're not on The <F>View
Let's get another round,
It's looking <C>like we're trouble bound
I have <G>never seen another like <C>you

Aint that the <G>way we do its true you take the <F>breath <C>from me <F><C>
It <G>seems like you are bound to be the <F>death of <G>me

Oh well a <C>couple hours later, we were in the elevator
Making out like Bonnie and <G>Clyde
We were dizzy from the love we found
Throwin' up
And goin' down
Lord it's been a hell of a <C>ride
I'm a-having trouble breathing
I probably should be leaving
Well I'm up in room four-oh<F>two
I gotta hand it to ya there's a <C>chance I'm gonna screw ya (Woh!)
I have <G>never seen another like <C>you
I don't <F>know if it's forever, but I'm <C>glad that we're together
I have <G>never seen another like <C>you.
